

day 7

Rowing, travel and charitable initiative. Folks from RowZambezi showed us that these things go excitingly well together. RowZambezi was a group of international rowers who traveled 900 km on the Kafue river and Kafue Flats in Zambia in Summer 2018. They aimed to raise awareness of the critical water quality issues of the Zambezi River Basin, and donated the funds they raised towards building a water research and rowing centre on the Kafue river.

We hope to see (and participate in) more initiative like this. If there is a particular charity that inspires you, please share in the comments!
